WORK OF THE MEHARRYS.

Present Head of Well Known Nashville Institution Only Survivor of the Five Men Whose Name the College Bears—Honored at Great Social Function of Physicians.

Nashville, Tenn.—The recent reunion of the graduates of the Meharry Medical college, in this city, was a distinct benefit to every member of the profession whose good fortune it was to be present at this reunion held at the Institution. It was a historic occasion of more than ordinary importance. Dr. J. T. Phillips, author of the Meharry song, "Crimson and Black," had charge of the music and led in the singing of this and other selections, which were greatly enjoyed.

Dr. C. V. Roman, who delivered the address of welcome, in part said: "Gentlemen, it is a pleasant sight to look at such an audience. The first evidence of civilization in men was their willingness to eat together without quarrelling. I do not know of the truthfulness of that, but I do know that one of the great elements of civilization is their desire to return to a landmark. Of the small band of Christian workers who started out on the great mission thirty years ago one remain to be here tonight in the person of the honored dean of Meharry, Dr. George W. Hubbard.

Dr. Hubbard received a warm welcome from the Meharryites. It was a warmth that cheered Dr. Hubbard's heart as he noted the strong feeling of appreciation for his efforts in behalf of the cause of freedom, good will and opportunity for our race as manifested by men of the race on this occasion. The sentiment of every one of the Meharry boys is, "Long live George W. Hubbard."

The venerable dean in his introductory remarks said: "To the five Meharry brothers—Hugh, Alexander, Samuel, David and Jesse, who so generously aided in establishing and supporting this institution that bears their name—the colored people of the south, and especially the alumni of Meharry, owe a debt of gratitude which can never be repaid."

"They have all passed from their labor to their reward, but their works do follow them."

"During the winter of 1875-6, while I was attending lectures at the medical department of Nashville university and the medical department of Vanderbilt university, Rev. John C. Braden, then president of Central Tennessee college, invited me to undertake the task of organizing a medical department for that college."

"This was the first attempt made to establish a medical school for the education of colored physicians in the southern states, only a few years before Howard university opened its doors to all persons who were properly prepared for the study of medicine without regard to sex or color. To Rev. Samuel Meharry of Lafayette, Ind., belongs the credit of giving the first $500 toward the support of this work."

"The work was begun on the first week of October, 1876. The faculty consisted of Dr. J. Sneed and myself. One room in the northeast corner of Tennessee hall, which was destroyed by fire in December, 1903, was allotted to us for our work, and a room in the basement of the building was prepared for practical demonstrations in anatomy. The requirement for admission was a fair knowledge of the English language. Nine students were enrolled during the first session, and J. M. Jamison, who is still living and practicing in Topeka, Kan., and who had previously studied medicine, was the first and only graduate of 1877."

"There were eighteen students enrolled the following year, and the graduating exercises were held at Thompson chapel on Feb. 22, 1877, and the address to the graduating class was delivered by Bishop Gilbert Haven, and John S. Bass, now practicing medicine at Iola, Kan.; John C. Half-acre and Lorenzo D. Key received their diplomas, the latter two after successfully practicing their profession for several years."

WACO'S CAPABLE EDUCATOR.

Mrs. M. E. Moore as Teacher and Leader in Good Movements.

Waco, Tex.—Thirty-four years in the public schools of Waco is the record of Mrs. Mary E. Moore, who is regarded as one of the best primary teachers in the entire south and who is foremost and active in everything that means the uplift and betterment of her race in this section of the country.

Mrs. Moore was born here, and it is interesting to know that she received her early school training in the public schools of this place under Peter H. Townsend of New York, superintendent of the schools here for two years. Mrs. Moore's mother made Cincinnati her home in the days of slavery and was set free. It was in Cincinnati that Mrs. Moore also attended school under one of the greatest educators of the race, Professor Peter H. Clark.

Graduating from the Cincinnati high school, she soon found her way back to Texas, where she entered the work as a teacher in the public schools. It was in 1875 that she married A. J. Moore of Detroit, Mich. They lived happily together until Professor Moore's death in 1905. She owns a beautiful home in Waco and other property that is rented. She is devoted to the school-room and is loved by the little boys and girls.

Mrs. Moore is an active church worker. She organized the choir in the New Hope Baptist church and raised money to purchase the first organ for the church. She is now an active member of St. Paul A. M. E. church and is interested in the work of Paul Quinn college, the school conducted by the A. M. E. church in Texas. During a rally for the college two years ago she raised $800.

For over a quarter of a century Mrs. Moore has been connected with the Household of Ruth, a branch of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, and for twenty-four years has been one of the prime factors in the Sisters of the Mysterious Ten, which is an auxiliary to the United Brothers of Friendship. In the Order of the Eastern Star she has filled every office in the grand chapter, and in the Sisters of the Mysterious Ten she is national grand treasurer. She is also connected with the Court of Colanthe of the Knights of Pythias.

Founder and Principal of Piney Woods Country Life School Delivers Thrilling Address For Daughters of American Revolution—Battle For Human Rights Must Continue, He Says.

Marshalltown, Ia. — Lawrence C. Jones, founder and principal of the Piney Woods Country Life school near Braxton, Miss., was one of the main speakers at the annual meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution held in this town Friday, Sept. 19. Mr. Jones received his high school education here, earning his money by working at the Hotel Pilgrim. He had a room in the basement of the hotel during the four years in which he was in school.

It is quite significant, therefore, that here, where he struggled up through ignorance and poverty a few years ago, he is thus honored by the wealthiest white people of the town as their guest and contributing to their thought and literary aspirations. Mr. Jones organized the Piney Woods Country Life school under the pine trees of south Mississippi in 1909 without land or financial aid, but his ambition to do something to uplift his race soon attracted the attention of both white and colored people, who gradually came to his assistance.

In his speech, which was listened to with close attention, Mr. Jones in part said:

Ladies, Daughters American Revolution—Appearing before you today, I do so with a heart brimming over with emotion which I feel that my tongue can never express.

The American Revolution! The very name thrills the heart and spreads before the mind a wondrous picture of the past—a panoramic view of colonial days. We see the colonial mansion, the cottage and the Negro quarters, the farms and the old fashioned gardens. We hear the almost omnipresent hum of the spinning wheel, the tinkle of the bells in the pasture, the ring of the scythe and the stir of industrial and commercial life, which was but the beginning of the prosperity and progress that have made of this the great nation that it is today.

Nowhere in the world has the spirit of liberty the same significance as in this country. From America, with that ideal of "liberty or death," has gone forth the new meaning of the old world. Beginning back in the period of '76, coming on down to '61 and in '38, this brotherhood has characterized our actions. The tolerance of the protracted disturbance in Mexico is but an evidence of this feeling of liberty and the ideal of broad mindedness which give every nation or race the privilege of striving for its ideal.

These are problems that no cannon can solve, situations whose adjustment lies beyond the pomp and circumstance of war, even beyond the jurisdiction and adaptability of man. Since this is true it has fallen to woman to take up the burden, and among all noble women where are any more fitted to assume these duties than you, the daughters of those in whose veins flowed the fighting blood of the nation? It is your birthright to be all that is good and true and just within yourselves and to desire the same for all. The fathers willed it thus. "For these they fought, for these they fell, and their oath was on their dead."

Daughters of the American Revolution, I stand before you today one of a race whose history, while vastly different, is strangely and strongly interwoven with that of your own. We have lived in the same country; we have heard the same drums and bugles; we have thrilled "neath the flutter of the same flag. Your people have occupied the seats of the mighty; mine have sat on the lowly seats, yet despite the woes and sorrows there have been through the years many golden threads of sympathy, kind regard and fellow feeling, and now, just rounding out the fiftieth year of freedom, we feel that we have much to thank you for. We expect to have more to thank you for, and incidentally, but in the faith that it is not a vain vision or an evanescent dream, there are many among us who hope to see the day when this, our country, your country, will have much to thank us for.

We wish to be contributors, producers, helpers. We wish to do more than we have ever done. But this is the ideal of those who have had a fighting chance. You will rejoice to hear that it was a woman with these high ideals, Miss Emily Howland, who extended the first helping hand to the little school in the piney woods. You will be still happier to know that it was another colonial daughter, Mrs. James G. Berryhill, who was the first lady in our own fair Iowa to lend a hand to this same cause.

GEMS FROM DR. CAREY'S LAKE ERIE SPEECH.

American history actually teems with the deeds of heroism and of valor, of dauntless courage and unwavering loyalty on the part of the "little brother" in the nation. To-day we speak of peace, of universal peace. How can there be universal peace without universal justice? Today the American people are in mortal conflict with enemies more potent, far more dreadful, than the old-time or armed crusaders which either must themselves be conquered or they will conquer us. Is the "big brother" really big enough for the task, for the responsibility, for the opportunity, that is his?

As a true American, one who loves his country and believes in this country's greatness and goodness, the "little brother" stands here today to plead for a fair chance. We ask nothing more and will be satisfied with nothing less. We have done and are still doing our part. We have ever been loyal to the flag. No black anarchist has ever torn the starry banner down. We feel that we have not had a square deal. In many states we are disfranchised because of our race, and Jimcrow laws disgrace the statute books of every southern state.

Efficient and trustworthy Afro-American government employees in Washington have recently been set apart, segregated from their fellows with whom they have worked for years, as if they were lepers. The "little brother" feels that such segregation is unnecessary, unfair, unjust, un-American and un-Christian.

And now, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the commission, thinking you in behalf of the 100 dauntless seamen who fought with Perry 100 years ago, in behalf of the 10,000,000 Afro-Americans who love and honor the flag, for this opportunity of speaking for them today, I plead with you as we celebrate we shall also determine that the most effective forces of our American life shall be turned upon injustice and unrighteousness as exhibited in every form of discrimination, disfranchisement, segregation, mob violence and Jimcrowism, the enemies of our national life, to the end that the day will not be far distant when white men and colored men, native and foreign born, south as well as north, shall look upon the shattered fleet of all these enemies to our domestic peace within this great republic and may with truth exclaim, "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

PUBLISHERS HONOR FORMER PRESIDENT R. W. THOMPSON.

Retires From Office With Full Confidence of His Fellows.

The National Negro Press association showed its appreciation of the efforts of ex-President R. W. Thompson in a substantial way upon the election of his successor at the recent annual meeting held in Philadelphia. Mr. Thompson presided over the sessions of the convention with an aptitude which invited the most hearty cooperation from the members and retired with their full confidence.

The fact that Mr. Thompson has devoted his time unsparingly to the work of the association has endeared him to the members. In order that he might have some useful article from the members as a token of their esteem a committee was appointed to purchase such a gift as would express the desires and good wishes of all concerned. Messrs. J. Finley Wilson of Baltimore and J. Thomas Harrison of Cambridge, Mass., acting for the association, purchased a gold fountain pen and a book of high literary merit.

These tokens were presented to Mr. Thompson in open meeting at one of the sessions of the business league. The presentation address was delivered by J. Finley Wilson, who was followed by further remarks by the Hon. James H. Anderson, managing editor and founder of the Amsterdam News, New York. Mr. Thompson's response was in keeping with his usual brilliant and diplomatic address in dealing with such personal matters.

Every session of the two days' meeting of the association was well attended, and there was not a dull period during the conduct of any of them. Real editors and newspaper men of long years of experience were in attendance, such as Editor Chris J. Perry of the Philadelphia Tribune, John H. Murphy, Afro-American Ledger, Baltimore; P. B. Young, Journal and Guide, Norfolk; James H. Anderson, Amsterdam News, New York; W. L. Porter, East Tennessee News, Knoxville; R. R. Wright, Christian Recorder, Philadelphia; W. H. Craighead, Advocate-Verdict, Harrisburg; Charles Sumner Smith, Twin City Star, Minneapolis, and others, representing a total number of 126 publications.

EFFORT TO SAVE OLD LANDMARK

Home of Frederick Douglass
Under Heavy Mortgage.

URGENT APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Mansion Which Once Sheltered the Illustrious Champion of Freedom For His People Neglected and Decayed. Quick Action Needed to Keep the Property From Being Sold.

Washington.—Fifty years after our freedom and thirteen years after the death of the man who more than any single person contributed by his agitation to our deliverance from bondage the old home of the late illustrious Frederick Douglass rests under a heavy mortgage. The old mansion, with its furniture, books, papers, art treasures and curios which were gathered by him, is fast going to decay, and the fifteen acres of ground surrounding and belonging to the home are but a tangled mesh of weeds and rank growth of vines. Located at the top of Cedar hill, overlooking the beautiful Potomac river and the city of Washington, this home is one of the picturesque spots in the District of Columbia. The home was bequeathed to the race to be held and preserved, with its contents and its land, as a memorial to that gigantic figure who braved the mobs before the war declaring that his race should and must be freed.

To those who were wont to make a pilgrimage out to Cedar hill and converse with Mr. Douglass when living and who knew of the natural and man made beauty of the old estate its present decay, its almost total abandonment to neglect, is pathetic. It suggests the question, "Has the race reverence for those who labored and suffered in order that we might be free?"

If the property were put up at sale today it would bring a big sum, for Washington has grown up to and around the Douglass home, and the street cars in twenty minutes will take one from the home to the White House or to the national capitol. Unless the heavy mortgage under which the home rests is lifted soon the property, the books, papers, furniture and art treasures which were once the pride of Mr. Douglass and which took a lifetime to gather may pass into the hands of another race.

It would be a lasting disgrace were this race of 10,000,000 beings fifty years after the achieving of their liberty, which boasts of $700,000,000 wealth, to permit this home to pass from it, and the spot which ought to be forever preserved as a mecca and a shrine to which the Negroes of the country might go and honor the memory of its once great owner be desecrated by the impious hand of Mammon.

An effort is now being put forth to raise sufficient money to pay off the mortgage and to put the home and grounds in repair and make them a monument to the name and fame of Mr. Douglass and a place of reverence, the same as the home of George Washington at Mount Vernon is preserved by the white people of this country.

It is figured out that if every Negro but contributed 10 cents a fund would be raised sufficient to pay off the mortgage, restore the house to its former beauty, endow the grounds with a wealth of beauty and make of it a fitting memorial to the late Frederick Douglass.

The property now belongs to our people. It will not be theirs long, however, if the mortgage is not soon lifted. The trustees of the home are A. H. Grimke, Rev. F. J. Grimke, Dr. J. E. Moorland and Whitfield McKinlay of Washington, Professor W. H. Grogan of Atlanta, Ga., and Rev. E. A. Clark of Louisville, Ky. Ralph W. Tyler of Washington, former auditor for the navy and now national organizer for the National Negro Business league, has been placed in charge of a campaign to raise money to pay off the mortgage. To save his home to the race to whom it was bequeathed as a legacy is the effort being made. For 10,000,000 of people to permit this old home to pass into the hands of the impious would be a lasting disgrace.

Those Negroes who possess race pride, a reverence and respect for the memory and labors of Mr. Douglass and wish to contribute to the fund being raised to save it may communicate with Mr. Tyler at 928 T street, N. W., Washington. Every child as well as every adult ought to feel it his duty to help save the old home of Frederick Douglass, which was bequeathed to the race he served for a lifetime. A Douglass memorial certificate will be sent to each contributor.

Besides pursuing a literary line of work for individual development, the club is now co-operating with the City Board of Health in its fight against tuberculosis. During the past summer ten persons have been accommodated at the camp. More than this number applied but the equipment was insufficient. The organization will plan and work for larger facilities to carry out this needed work for suffering humanity.

Organization of Chauffeurs.

A meeting of importance to those who follow the calling of chauffeur was held at the Y. M. C. A. last week. Addresses were made by Geo. L. Knox, Dr. E. N. Perkins, Dr. J. H. Ward and Dr. W. E. Brown. An organization was then perfected to be known as the Y. M. C. A. Chauffeurs' Progressive League.

The object of the league is to facilitate efforts to acquire knowledge, to stimulate and encourage an honest discharge of duties, to develop the understanding of mechanism, to bring into exercise the highest powers of the mind, and to enable its members to attain the utmost confidence of employers. The following officers were elected: Chief chauffeur, E. Harper; asst. chief chauffeur, Jas. Willis; office chauffeur, H. H. Ash; assistant office chauffeur, Louis Buckner; keeper of garage, Joe Taylor; chaplain, Harrison Alloys; watchman, C. A. Frazier. Twenty-four chauffeurs enrolled as members of the league. The officers were installed Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. building. A program was rendered.

It is intended to bring before the league at intervals, experts in the automobile business. The committee having this in charge is known as the technical committee, with John H. Gebolt as chairman. The membership of the league is open to all chauffeurs who are seeking self development and mutual advancement.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Seam Ripper Attachment
For Sewing Machines.

To save valuable time for busy seamstresses a Virginia woman has designed a ripper attachment for sewing machines. Usually when a woman wants to rip a seam in a garment she searches about for scissors and laboriously opens the stitches. This attachment consists of an arm that is pivotally fixed to the lower end of the needle bar and has a horizontal cutting blade mounted on it. When not in use this arm can be pushed up and back out of the way. When needed it can be pulled down in a second, and the seamstress can open the seam without having to practically stop work and look for other tools. She can thus alternately sew and rip without only a few inches to go from one mechanism to the other.

Testing the Oven's Heat.

To test the oven have ready some pieces of ordinary white kitchen paper and try the oven by putting in one every eight or ten minutes. If on being put in the paper blackens or even blazes up at once the oven is obviously too hot. If on being left in, however, for two minutes or so the paper turns a deep, almost chocolate brown the oven is ready for pastries and small pastries generally. If the paper turns a Havana or cigar brown, tarts, vol-auvents and such like may be put in. If the paper simply turns a pale yellowish brown, the shade of a deal plank, the oven is fit for bread, large meat or game pies, poundcake, etc.—in short, anything requiring a good sound or "soaking" oven, the perfect one for baking. If finally the paper when left in the oven for the prescribed time is barely tinged with a very faint shade of yellow, sponge cakes, meringues and such things needing but light baking and little if any coloring may be safely left in.

Kitchen Wisdom.

Rubbers on fruit cans should never be used after they have become stretched and thin. All fine linens and pieces of hand-some lingerie should be wrung out by hand and never through the wringer. Sew a good sized pearl button into the corner of the dishcloth for a convenient help in cleansing saucers. Finger marks may be removed from varnished furniture by rubbing with sweet oil. Custard dishes or cups may be prevented from cracking when boiling custard is poured into them by placing the dish or cup on a damp cloth.

Uses For Worn Towels.

Worn huckaback or Turkish towels can be made into servicable wash cloths. They can be hemmed by hand or by machine or finished with a row of featherstitching. Another way to use old towels is to sew two together neatly about the edges and catch them with strong thread two or three times in the middle and make one strong towel. Old Turkish towels when they are too worn for any other use make very good floor cloths.

One Crust Cream Apple Pie.

Line a pie tin with rich crust, cover bottom crust with good cooking apples, cover well with sugar, sprinkle of flour. Dot butter well over top and sprinkle well with cinnamon when half baked. Bake two-thirds cupful of pure sweet cream, pour over and finish baking till a golden brown. Eat when cold.

A Sewing Hint.

When stitching hems of tucks in children's garments that will likely be lengthened a little later use a finer thread on the bobbin than on the spool; also lengthen the stitch a trifle. If stitched in this way it will be found very easy to rip the hems or other seams when the necessity arises.

Sally Lunn Short Cake.

One tablespoonful of butter, scant three-fourths cupful of sugar, one egg, one-half cupful of milk, one cupful of flour and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat till light, pour in greased tin, sprinkle berries or cherries over the top and bake. Serve with cream and sugar.

Renovating Feathers.

Wings and quilts that have become soiled may be made to look like new in the following manner: Put them in a box filled with cornmeal and shake them gently. When this is finished brush off the meal with a soft brush.

Secretary Miss Rossie Huddleson.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Luia

Huddleson, one of our local preachers

preached an interesting and practical sermon which showed that she is making some material improvement,

especially in what might be called

pulpit etiquette. Last Thursday evening, a week ago, Rev. W. W. Wines,

Jr., pastor of the New Baptist church

preached for us in our Sealed rally.

His sermon was excellent, interesting

and profitable. His choir furnished

music for the occasion.

Sunday morning our pastor preached

on "The Incomprehensible Love

God." In the afternoon we worshiped with the Rev. W. W. Wines and his congregation. Our pastor preached

a masterful sermon on the subject,

"Lifting up Christ," and we were made to feel that which comes from brethren dwelling together in union.

Our church choir furnished the music

for this occasion. At the evening service the attendance was not so

good, from the fact that our pastor

preached at Second Baptist church.

Remember Oct. 5th is Rally day with the First Free Baptist church and you are invited to be present and rally with us. For rally program see

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Luia

Huddleson, one of our local preachers

preached an interesting and practical

sermon which showed that she is

making some material improvement,

especially in what might be called

pulpit etiquette. Last Thursday evening, a week ago, Rev. W. W. Wines,

Jr., pastor of the New Baptist church

preached for us in our Sealed rally.

His sermon was excellent, interesting

and profitable. His choir furnished

music for the occasion.

Sunday morning our pastor preached

on "The Incomprehensible Love

God." In the afternoon we worship-

ed with the Rev. W. W. Wines and his congregation. Our pastor preached

a masterful sermon on the subject,

"Lifting up Christ," and we were made to feel that which comes from

brethren dwelling together in union.

Our church choir furnished the music

for this occasion. At the evening service the attendance was not so

good, from the fact that our pastor

preached at Second Baptist church.

It will take careful planning and constant and earnest work to have everything in readiness by next September. All friends of Allen Chapel, be they Methodists or Baptists, must come forward and help in this great undertaking. — After the close of the annual conference of the A. M. E. church, Elder W. D. PROCLAMATION.

The Supreme Lodge of the Pilgrim Knights of the World.

Office of the Supreme Master, Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 15, 1913.
To all Pilgrim Knights of the World, and to all Pilgrim Sisters of the Holy Cross, and to all Subordinate Lodges, Temples, Military Companies, Red Cross Chapters, Organizers, Deputies, and all Officers and Members of the Order, Greeting:

Although our noble order is not quite two years old, yet we have made such wonderful progress, during the short period of our existence, as to break all previous records for the advancement of fraternal secret orders in the first years of their existence.

Our steady march onward has been rapid, and with giant strides we have far exceeded our most sanguine expectations. Our success thus far is unparalleled.

And as we now have eight good sized lodges of the Pilgrim Knights of the World and five large, healthy temples of the Pilgrim Sisters of the Holy Cross, which is more than the number required by our laws to form a Grand Lodge and a Grand Temple, and besides have over fifteen protom bodies under organization into lodges and temples:

Therefore, pursuant to Section 2, of Article 6 of the Supreme Lodges Statutes, I, Frederick O. Evans, Supreme Master of the Pilgrim Knights of the World, do hereby call a special convention of the Supreme Lodge of the Pilgrim Knights of the World, to be held in the Palladium Temple of Purity Lodge, No. 8, in the city of Indianapolis, Indiana, on such other hall or place as may be designated by said Purity Lodge No. 8, on Tuesday, October 14th, 1913, to continue in session October 15th and 16th, and until the special business for which this meeting is called has been transacted.

This meeting is called for the special purpose of transacting the following business, to-wit:

1. To organize and establish Grand Lodge, or Grand Lodges, comprising the Grand Jurisdictions of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, embracing all three state jurisdictions into one Grand Lodge, or separate Grand Lodges, as may be determined at said special session.

2. To organize and establish a Grand Temple, or Grand Temples, of the Pilgrim Sisters of the Holy Cross; said Grand Temple, or Grand Temples to embrace the territory of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, as may be determined by said special session.

3. For the purpose of confining the Grand Lodge Degrees, and the Grand Temple Degrees, on all who may be eligible to receive the same.

4. For the purpose of transacting any other business that may lawfully come before this special session.

The Supreme Lodge and Convention will convene Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, and at 9:30 Grand Lodge Degrees will be conferred, and the Grand Lodge or Grand Lodges for the jurisdiction of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio will be organized.

At 2:30 the Grand Temple Degrees will be conferred, and the organization of the Grand Temple for the jurisdiction of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio will be perfected.

Wednesday will be Gala Day, and Wednesday afternoon and night a grand military exhibition drill and display by the military companies and Red Cross teams.

Thursday, filling of vacancies in Supreme Lodge offices, and conferring the Supreme Lodge degrees.

Note—Each lodge and each temple is entitled to send two representatives to this Supreme Lodge Convention.

All past worthy masters, deputy masters, high priests, clerks and secretaries of all lodges are entitled to attend and receive the Grand Lodge Degree, and thus become eligible to any Grand Lodge office. The fee for the Grand Lodge Degree is two dollars.

And all past mother superiors, mother superiors, sisters superiors, high priestesses, clerks and secretaries of the Temples of the Pilgrim Sisters are entitled to attend and receive the Grand Temple Degree, and thus become eligible to only Grand Temple office. The fee for the Grand Temple Degree is one dollar.

Lodges and temples should see that all endowment dues and all semi-annual taxes are collected and forwarded to the proper Supreme Lodge officers. Failing to comply with this will deprive the representatives and delegates of such lodge or temple so failing from the privileges of the Supreme Lodge convention.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Supreme Lodge at Lafayette, Indiana, this 15th day of September, 1913.

FREDERICK O. EVANS,
Supreme Master.
